Gas Logic chooses Crosby

Gas Logic the Certification Gas Training Centre, approached Crosby for an integrated voice and fax solution that would allow completed certification forms and details to be collected automatically by fax. The solution would also allow contact via a national rate number in case some applications do not have a fax machine.

Crosby supplied a fax to e-mail solution based on a national rate number along with voice capabilities that enabled Gas Logic to collect details automatically 24 hrs a day without the need for large amounts of fax machines and telephone lines. Crosby provided the solution in full and the service is now in use for all new gas applications.

Matthew Wilson MD of Crosby said, a lot of businesses want to create a paperless office, and as more and more legislation comes in, the need to collect information and store it efficiently is increasing. The solution we supplied to Gas Logic will allow them to create a paperless office for the collection of forms for the training they offer.

Gas Logic Limited is a Logic Certification approved Gas Training Centre certified to carry out both training and assessment under the Accredited Certification Scheme (ACS) for gas operatives employed in the domestic and commercial work categories.

Gas Logic Limited provide a modern purpose-built centre which offers a comfortable, relaxed and professional environment in which candidates can achieve their required certification, with an experienced team of assessors and trainers providing a high level of assistance during the candidates stay.
